My salutation to You, again and again!

Oh Mother, The Land of Bharat, My salutation to You! The embodiment of Hindu dharma, My salutation to You! The Mother of the Universe, My salutation to You! The giver of all auspiciousness, My salutation to You!

You are indeed the very Earth (abode of wealth), the procreator, the generator of dharma, of valour and of knowledge. To the one who is the abode of all diversity, to that Mother, My salutation!

To the one who is the giver of invincible strength and power; universal value systems; and the right wisdom to lead, unto You, my salutation!

Going to the Shakha is indeed my worship to you. Service to the Society is indeed offering (my respect) to you. Propagation of Dharma is indeed my meditation upon you. You are indeed an embodiment of Bhagavan – unto You, my salutation!
